

ALL THE PEOPLE OF THE BIBLE

This article identifies all of the people whose proper names occur in the Bible, excluding the deuterocanonical books.

The names are set out alphabetically as they are spelled in the King James Version, with variant spellings enclosed in brackets []. The meaning of the name is then given in parentheses (). Under each entry, various individuals bearing this name are differentiated by boldface brackets, like this: [1]; [2]; and so on. Then follows a description of the character, with several Bible verses listed where the name occurs. (Not all verses could be given; so if the reader is considering a passage that is not cited in the section, he must choose the character that would most likely be identical with the person in his passage.)

We have made no attempt to designate each person as a Palite, Harodite, Gileadite, and so on. Many of these designations refer to the ancestor of an individual; in other cases, they refer to the person's city, district, or distinctive clan. It is often a guess as to which meaning is intended.

The meanings of the names are not infallibly accurate; they are simply interesting possibilities. These names are ancient and their history is obscure and uncertain.

Many people in Scripture bear the same name. In dozens of cases, we cannot determine whether an individual in one book is identical with someone having the same name in another book. In the ancient world, a person was often called by more than one name.

In the transmission of Scripture, copyists occasionally made errors. Surely Reuel was not also called Deuel, nor Jemuel called Nemuel, and so on. Yet which is original? Only in a few cases do we have any clues.

We find variant forms and contractions of names through the Bible. They probably presented little difficulty to an ancient reader. But this further complicates the identification problem for us.

The Hebrew genealogies are abbreviated at many points. At times it is difficult to distinguish a man from his ancestor. Consider also the problem of trying to match an abbreviated list with a fuller list. Either the names in the abbreviated list are independent of the longer list or they are already included in it. In other words, we may find the same person included in two lists or two different people in two lists.

In a few cases, our English versions use the same word to transliterate several similar Hebrew names. In these instances, we have recorded a separate entry for each Hebrew name (e.g., Iddo).

S

Sabta [Sabtah] ("striking"), the third son of Cush (Gen. 10:7; 1 Chron. 1:9).

Sabtecha [Sabtechah] ("striking"), the fifth son of Cush (Gen. 10:7; 1 Chron. 1:9).

Sacar ("hired"). [1] The father of one of David's mighty men (1 Chron. 11:35). He is called Sharar ("strong") in 2 Samuel 23:33. [2] A Levite tabernacle gatekeeper in the days of David (1 Chron. 26:4).

Sadoc (Greek form of Zadok—"righteous"), an ancestor of Christ (Matt. 1:14).

Sala [Shelah] ("petition; sprout"), a son of Arphaxad and ancestor of Christ (Gen. 10:24; 11:12; Luke 3:35). He is called Shelah in 1 Chronicles 1:18,24.

Salathiel, Greek form of Shealtiel (q.v.).

Sallai ("rejecter"). [1] A chief man of the tribe of Benjamin (Neh. 11:8). [2] A priest who returned with Zerubbabel from the Exile (Neh. 12:20). He is called Sallu ("contempt; rejection") in Neh. 12:7.

Sallu ("weighed; dear"). [1] A descendant of Benjamin dwelling in Jerusalem (1 Chron. 9:7; Neh. 11:7). [2] See Sallai [2].

Salome ("clothing; strength"). [1] One of the women who saw the Crucifixion (Mark 15:40; 16:1). Matthew 27:56 mentions that the mother of the sons of Zebedee was present; she is probably to be identified with Salome. John 19:25 lists the sister of Jesus' mother among those near the cross; some scholars identify her with Salome, but others deny this. [2] The daughter of Herodias who danced before Herod (Matt. 14:6; Mark 6:22).

Salu ("miserable; unfortunate"), father of Zimri, who was slain (Num. 25:14).

Samgar-nebo, a Babylonian officer who sat with other officials in the middle gate of Jerusalem (Jer. 39:3). Some take this as a proper name (perhaps meaning "be gracious, Nebo"). Others view it as a title of Nergal-sharezer.

Samlah ("garment"), king of Edom (Gen. 36:36; 1 Chron. 1:47-48). Samson ("distinguished; strong"), judge of Israel for 20 years. His great strength and moral weakness have made him famous (Judg. 13:24; 14-16).

Samuel [Shemuel] ("asked of God; heard of God"),

ALL THE PEOPLE OF THE BIBLE

prophet and last judge of Israel. He anointed Saul and later David as king (1 Sam. 1:20; 3-13; 15-16; 19; 25:1; Heb. 11:32).

Sanballat ("strong"), a leading opponent of the Jews at the time they were rebuilding the walls of Jerusalem (Neh. 2:10; 4:1, 7; 6:1-14).

Saph ("preserver"), a descendant of Rapha the giant (2 Sam. 21:18). He is called Sippai ("Jehovah is preserver") in 1 Chronicles 20:4.
